ALDERMEN DO NOT PASS FRANCHISE FOR TERMINAL CO.

Paducah & Northern Ordinance Will Have to be Reconsidered by Them.

Councilmen Adopt Ordinance at Special Session.

MAYOR SMITH MAKES SPEECH

By a vote of 4 to 3 the aldermen refused to grant the franchise to the Paducah Northern railroad last night in special session, but the councilmen voted to give the franchise by a vote of 8 to 4. Both boards granted the franchise to the Kentucky and Ohio River Interurban company for the entrance of the city for the proposed interurban railroad to Cairo. Both boards were called last night for a special session to consider the franchise, and many spectators were present.

The ordinance granting the Paducah & Northern the right to enter the city was read by Alderman Stewart, and he made the motion that it be given second passage, which was seconded by Alderman Gehlischlaeger. Thomas Crice was present to represent property owners on North Tenth and Trimble streets, and protested against the railroad entering the city over those streets. All of the citizens recognized the further need of railroads by the city, but the question was that the property owners wanted the road to enter some other way. A communication was read by City Clerk Maurice McIntyre from R. G. Terrell, objecting to the use of North Tenth street for a railroad, asserting it was a violation of the agreement made with the city. Joe E. Potter made a short talk against granting the franchise, basing his argument on the damage to property. W. F. Bradshaw, Jr., made a short talk explaining several of the contested points, and Earl Palmer, president of the Commercial club, favored the granting of the franchise. George C. Waller made a talk for the railroad, and explained the organization of the company. Alderman Miller raised the question as to whether the franchise was a contract. City Solicitor Campbell said it became a contract. Alderman Campbell asked City Solicitor Campbell if he believed that the city's rights were being protected fully. The city solicitor answered in the affirmative, and said the rights of the city were protected fully and completely. President Hannan called the question and the roll call resulted in the defeat of the bill. The vote was: Ayes—Chamblin, Hank, Gehlischlaeger and Stewart; nays—Hannan, Baker and Miller. When the defeat was announced there was scattered applause, and the spectators left.

Council Adopted.

In a few minutes the board of councilmen was called in special session to consider the granting of franchises, and Mayor Smith made a short talk to the board. He said that the aldermen had even fit not to grant the franchise to the Paducah & Northern railroad, but he felt that it was of so much importance to the city that the councilmen should take it up, and he felt sure, and had good reasons for so doing, that the aldermen would reconsider their action. Mayor Smith said he had withheld his opinion until satisfied thoroughly of the sincerity of the promoters. He said 75 per cent. of the citizens wanted it passed and he had not received one complaint at his office against the granting of the franchise. He considered the objection merely a personal one, and said if they should change the right-of-way and the same disturbance would be raised by different property owners. He regretted that a railroad had to damage property, but many of the progressive citizens, who will be damaged most, have consented for the road to pass over their property. He said he owned three lots that the railroad would damage.

To help the cause the councilmen decided to read the ordinance, and Councilman Van Meter read it. On roll call the vote was: Ayes—Mayor, Wilson, Kreutzer, Foreman, Van Meter and Cornelson; nays—Young, Lackey, Ford and Duval.

No question was raised in granting the franchise to the Kentucky & Ohio River Interurban railroad over the following route: From the city limits down North Eighth street to Terrell street, in Terrell street to North Sixth street, south on Sixth street to Clay street, east on Clay street to North Third street and south on Third street to Jefferson street.

Mayor's Speech. Mayor Smith made a characteristic speech in favor of the franchise for the Paducah & Northern. The mayor said last night:

Tobacco Trust Will Dissolve and Reorganize Under New Name—Fear Sherman Anti-Trust Law.

self on legislation until it reaches me in the form of an ordinance; but this matter I deem of so vital importance to the welfare of Paducah, that I do not feel that I would be doing my duty not to lift my voice in its favor. He then recited conditions as they exist and declared his belief that railroad connections north constitute the only sufficient remedy.

He recited the efforts of the Moblie & Ohio to enter Paducah many years ago and the shifting devices by which the railroad was kept out. The Moblie & Ohio went to Cairo, and a bridge, which should have been built at Paducah, making this the great distributing center, was built at Cairo. Now the Louisville & Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis from Murray to Cairo, shoving Paducah on to a little branch to the river, and affording the final inducement for the railroad, which are now considering Paducah, to go to Cairo, where they can get the connection to the south.

"Gentlemen," continued the mayor, "I would be the last man to propose any plan to injure any man's property in this city, but the greatest good to the greatest number must always be the measure of public benefit. Naturally, the people owning property along the proposed route oppose the railroad. If you tried any one of five hundred different ways of entering Paducah you would find about the same number of people objecting."

"If we were in a position to dictate, I should favor compelling the railroads to build the bridge at Brookport, but I am assured by the citizens of Paducah, who are promoting this road, that they are convinced that the railroads are going into Metropolis, and whether they come to Paducah depends on what we have to offer them, and in a hurry, too."

"Gentlemen, I have not the time to go to Chicago and St. Louis and New York to ask these railroad presidents if they would just as leave come to Brookport as to Metropolis, and I doubt whether I would find out any more than I now know. If I should. These Paducah gentlemen have said they have been told this, and the proposition they offer is the only one that will bring the railroads here."

"I take their word for it. The city is safeguarded all that is possible. I regret that some property owners must be damaged, but they have their recourse in court, and although this company is capitalized for a small amount, it may do nothing to damage that property until it has executed sufficient bond to indemnify all property holders. These gentlemen, who are as much interested in Paducah as you or I, tell us that there is no other way to attract the railroads."

"Now, it is just a question of how much confidence we have in our own townsmen. The bankers and merchants and manufacturers of Paducah are fools, or knaves or honest men. I believe they are honest and square. I believe they are telling the truth in this matter. They are among the men most materially interested in the progress of the city. If these men are fools and are making a mistake in this thing, or if these men are knaves and would be willing to ruin Paducah for the sake of some trick, the profit of which I cannot see, I wish to get out of the city with my family and my interests, and the sooner I find out what they are the better for me."

No Snap Work Done.

City officials resent the imputation that a snap meeting of the councilmen was held. Mayor Smith took especial pains to call up the paper yesterday and announce the meeting, particularizing that the aldermen were to meet at 7:30 and the councilmen at 8. The calls for both boards were in the hands of the city clerk at the same time, and the two boards are separate bodies, neither having to await the initiative of the other.

MURDERER BURNS HIMSELF IN CELL TO ESCAPE TRIAL

Seneca, Kan., April 18.—Lones Lally, who was to have been tried Monday, charged with the murder of Herbert Jordan, set fire to his bed in jail this morning and burned himself to death. Jordan, private secretary to former Governor Bailey, was shot down during the night. Suspicion pointed to Lally, who once had trouble with the Jordan family over a land deal.

Board of Directors Closes Three Branches, Which Will be Reopened in Name of New Concern.

Richmond, Va., April 18.—A report that the American Tobacco company, with branches all over the civilized and semi-civilized world, is about to dissolve, is practically admitted by officials of the company in this city, who will not allow their names to be mentioned. This step has been decided on by the advice of attorneys of the company in Washington, who are of the opinion that the company will be liable under the terms of the Sherman anti-trust laws.

Two reasons are assigned for the dissolution, which is possibly by mutual agreement of the board of directors of the company. The first of these is that the company is acting under the advice of counsel, the other being that the company has grown to such enormous size and its business methods have become so complicated that dissolution has been resolved upon as a matter of business expediency.

Three Branches Close. The Whitlock branch of the American Cigar company, which is a branch of the American Tobacco company, closed its doors for the purpose of taking an inventory. The plant will not open again until Monday, May 27. Simultaneously with the closing of the Whitlock branch, the Jersey City, N. J., branch and also the branch at Lancaster, Pa., closed for the same purpose.

Just what steps will be taken in closing down the other branches in this and other cities can not be learned. The three big plants mentioned are known as the machine-made cigar branches.

The company has hundreds of hand-made cigar branches located in Petersburg, Norfolk, Philadelphia, Baltimore, New York, Jacksonville, Fla., Tampa, Fla., Key West, Charleston, Chicago and other places in this country, as well as Havana, Cuba and many other cities in foreign countries, including the Philippines and the Hawaiian group and China.

Start Under New Name.

When the three machine-made cigar plants start up again, it is said, they will no longer be connected or known as being connected with the American Tobacco company. They will be known as the Federal Cigar company, makers exclusively of machine-made cigars.

W. S. Luckett, of New York, present general manager for three branches, is scheduled for the presidency of the Federal Cigar company. A. G. Woodford, at present assistant general manager, will be the vice-president. The general manager will be J. Norman Dart, present manager of the Whitlock branch. F. B. Smith, superintendent of the local plant, E. E. Ramsey, assistant to the superintendent, is to be made superintendent here.

Reorganize All Plants.

Dart has been in New York several days in conference with officials of the American Tobacco company over the proposed dissolution. The orders to close the Whitlock branch were received by telegraph.

It is believed that the whole American or United States Cigar Stores company, the American Cigar Stores company, the American Licorice company, together with the many other underlying and subsidiary companies composing the American Tobacco company, will undergo the same process as that of the three machine-made cigar plants, and that a number of supposedly independent companies, controlling the tobacco and paper cigarette, box and licorice Russian and Turkish cigarette, leaf, export and other companies, will all be reorganized under separate heads.

OLLIE M. JAMES IS NAMED ONCE MORE FOR CONGRESSMAN

Makes Speech in Which He Enlogizes Bryan as Greatest Since Jefferson.

First District Counties Are Well Represented Today.

REPUBLICAN CONTEST CASE

Congressman Ollie M. James was nominated this afternoon by the First district Democratic committee as the Democratic nominee for the Sixty-first congress. He had no opposition, and according to the agreement, that if no candidate other than Congressman James entered for the primary before April 14, the nomination was unanimous. Congressman James was placed in nomination by H. A. Coulter, of Graves county, who said Ollie was the best Democrat in earth, and in the language of the southern negro "He was it."

Mr. James responded with a neat speech told how he appreciated the honor. "I have been a member of three congresses and hope that my service has met with approval." He continued by saying that he would try to do his duty in the future, and promised never to desert the flag of Democracy. In closing Congressman James paid a tribute to William J. Bryan, and said he is the "greatest Democrat since Thomas Jefferson."

Mott Ayres, chairman of the convention, was unable to be present and C. S. Nunn, of Crittenden county, was elected chairman. R. L. Smith, of Hickman, was elected secretary. The following delegates were present: H. A. Coulter, of Graves; W. R. Sassewood, of Carlisle; C. S. Nunn, of Crittenden; R. L. Smith, of Hickman; Clarence Glenn, of Lyon; John H. Stevens, of Caldwell; J. Frank Ladd, of Trigg; H. B. Holland, of Marshall; James Traill, of Livingston. McCracken, Hickman and Calloway counties were represented at the meeting by proxies.

Hearing Postponed.

Louisville, Ky., April 18. (Special.)—A large number of Republican politicians are here attending the meeting of the Republican state central committee hearing the contest in the First district. A large majority favor Taft. J. C. Speight presented affidavit showing the arbitrary ruling by Deboe and declaring that Deboe had bid beforehand how he would rule.

After hearing considerable argument adjournment was taken until April 30 to let Deboe prepare his side of the case.

The disagreement grew out of Deboe's rulings at the First district convention when 87 of the 140 delegates declined to obey his revolutionary orders and took the convention out of his hands. Charges are made to remove him as district chairman, and the contest for the chairmanship, the presidential elector and congressional candidate are to be decided.

Calloway County Magistrate, One of Men Indicted For Night Riding, Surrenders Himself--Makes Bond.

Squire Tom Jones, One of Old Regime in Fiscal Court, Accused of Whipping His Constituents.

In Christian, Hopkinsville, Ky., April 18.—(Special.)—There is renewed activity here against the night riders. Officials are gathering evidence to present to the next grand jury.

(By Perry McLean.)

Murray, Ky., April 18.—Sixty indictments against night riders have been returned. The grand jury has asked for more time, which was granted by the court. It is said that the night rider band that operated Dexter and which has never before been given attention. The leaders are indicted as many times as possible. Thirty-nine indictments were returned today.

Murray, Ky., April 18.—Thomas Jones, a member of the Calloway county fiscal court, and a prominent citizen of the east side of the county, was indicted by the grand jury yesterday for being implicated in the night rider outrages on the east side of the county, surrendered to the authorities this morning and gave bond for his appearance to answer the charge against him. His trial was set for Monday, April 27. Magistrate Jones is now serving his second term in Liberty precinct, being the only member elected at the time Judge Wells was elected county judge. Magistrate Jones is charged with being implicated in the whipping of Frank Mardis.

Annas Bogard, a citizen of Liberty magisterial precinct, was arrested today on a bench warrant charging night riding. He was one of the 21 indicted yesterday. Bogard is a son of the late Moses Bogard and is well known. A detail of soldiers left this morning for the eastern portion of the county to make other arrests, but has not yet reported.

A better feeling prevails in Murray today than for weeks, and more especially since the confession of Wiley Stewart was made public, revealing the magnitude of the night rider movement in Calloway county and the danger through which Murray slept unprotected for weeks. The relaxation was caused by the report of the grand jury, which brought 21 indictments yesterday. As many more are confidently expected today.

Captain Caudill has returned to Whitesburg to recruit up his company. Some of the boys who have been out nearly three months have to return home.

Murray, Ky., April 18.—The biggest bomb that has yet exploded in the ranks of the night rider army of eastern Calloway was the returning of 21 indictments yesterday and the semi-official understanding that as many more would be brought into court before the grand jury adjourns today.

Reports from the eastern portion of the county last night were that a number of the bands who have been standing their ground with bravado, left the county and crossed into Trigg county, which is at present considered

Congressman Ollie M. James arrived in the city early this morning from Washington. Congressman James announced the pleasing news that Paducah's postoffice will be improved, as the public improvement committee has included $20,000 for that purpose in the general bill. The chairman of the committee telegraphed Congressman James yesterday that it had been acted on favorably.

The improvements will include a portico at the new entrance on the Broadway side, and for a gable on the roof. Also the old blind window in the new part will be cut through. New boxes will be placed

JUROR SUCCUMBS DURING HEARING OF DAMAGE CASE

Marion Mellen Drops on Side-walk at Smithland Going to Court House.

Report Out That Dr. Champion Has Been Indicted.

LIVINGSTON COUNTY'S WORK

Smithland, Ky., April 18. (Special.)—While returning from his boarding house to the court house, where he was on the petit jury considering a damage case, Marion Mellen, 70 years old, of Salem, dropped dead on the street today. He was apparently in his usual health before that moment. He had spent the night at home and driven into town this morning. The arguments in the case were concluded and the jury was given a recess. Mr. Mellen is survived by his wife and two sons at home, and several married children. He was the father of Mrs. D. A. Cross, wife of the Paducah police judge.

The Grand Jury Work. It is authentically reported that the Livingston county grand jury has returned several indictments for writing night rider letters, and it is stated at the court house that Dr. Will Champion, of Lyon county, has been indicted for writing a threatening letter to G. R. Evans, a business man of Grand Rivers. Dr. Champion is accused of being a night rider leader, and has been indicted in Marshall county for leading the Birmingham raid. He is supposed to be on his way to Smithland now with a deputy sheriff to make bond.

ARBOR DAY IS OBSERVED BY ALUMNI ASSOCIATION.

An elaborate Arbor Day program was carried out at the Washington school building yesterday. A large number of patrons of the school were present. The ceremonies were under the auspices of the Alumni association. Mrs. L. M. Rieke, president of the association, presiding. Mayor James P. Smith and Hal S. Corbett were the principal speakers, while a literary program was given by the pupils of the school. At the conclusion of Mr. Corbett's address a tree was planted on the campus, the ceremonies closing by the audience singing "America."

Jury Dismissed.

All the cases requiring a jury having been disposed of, Judge Reed yesterday dismissed the petit jury and ordered the jurors paid for their work. The only business to be transacted in circuit court now will be taking orders in cases on the appearance docket, while the grand jury will continue in session probably a week longer.

The grand jury has been engaged so far in investigating jail cases, but these have all been disposed of. Other matters will be taken up, including the senders of night rider warnings.

Commonwealth's Attorney Lovett and County Attorney Barkley will now devote all their time to assisting the grand jury in the investigation of the charges and the work will be rushed with all speed possible.

TRINITY VALLEY FLOODS IN TEXAS ARE NOT ABATING

Dallas, April 18.—The floods in Texas, particularly in the northern and central sections, are worse today. Two hundred families were driven from their homes in Fort Worth. One white man and one negro were drowned in Trinity river. Many miles of railroad track are washed away.

A train was partly engulfed during the night on the Dallas and Cleburne line of the Santa Fe. The porter was drowned. The fireman probably was fatally injured. Lives of a hundred passengers endangered. Small boats from Cleburne removed passengers to safety.

Reports indicate that a half dozen lives were lost in the state because of the flood. Property loss will exceed a million.

Rainfall during the week is seven inches and it is still raining. Mr. J. V. Slayden, association war houseman at Fulton, is in the city today.

a haven of refuge by the men who have been responsible for depredations. Authorities, who are conceded to be masters of the situation, are prepared for any emergency that may arise and all the boasted strength of the Trigg county organization of outlaws will not thwart the law.

So far the only set back that the prosecution experienced was the flight of Murray Harris, the young man who turned states evidence on the west side band. Harris left Murray Thursday night and has not returned. It is reported, however, that the authorities are aware of his movements all the time and will bring him back at the proper time, unless he voluntarily returns. Harris is a most important witness against the west side raiders, who have means. The officials are not disconcerted at the turn of affairs, and hope to secure convictions should Harris never show up again.

The action of the grand jury in returning such a big bunch of indictments the first week of their labors has done more than anything else to restore confidence in Murray, where rumors have been rife every night of an attempt to liberate the prisoners in jail. Especially since Joe Bell was surrendered by his bondsmen it is reported that declarations have been made by night rider leaders that he would be rescued at any cost. Every preparation has been made for the entertainment of the rescuing army should it attempt to raid the city, and with the advantage the officials have, such an attempt easily could be repulsed without loss of life to the defenders, although the invaders would undoubtedly suffer.

The fact that the men in jail have been able to secure high priced counsel to defend them is the subject of much discussion in Murray and strengthens the belief that someone "higher up" fears an exposure, should the men be sentenced, and is anxious to stop the prosecution movement before the minor members of the band weaken and tell all. Even Joe Bell, who is charged with being the leader on the east side, is believed to have worked under a superior officer in Calloway county, and to find this man is the purpose of the prosecution.

Judge Wells said yesterday that the day's developments had been more than satisfactory, not only because the grand jury made such an encouraging report, but because new and important evidence has been secured.

The boldness with which the leaders organized the band on the east side of the county is said to be astounding. Leaders went around without disguise and forced men to take the night rider oath. Dozen of instances of this kind have been reported to Judge Wells by the men who were forced to take the oath themselves.

Many men took the oath thoughtlessly, but since it has become generally known that the simple banding together, whether a raid is intended or not is a felony, scores of men have come in town voluntarily to tell the court their connection with the night riders—that immunity might be learned under the kuklux statute.

All Arraigned.

CATARRH A SERIOUS FAR-REACHING BLOOD DISORDER

Even in its early stages Catarrh is almost intolerable, caused by the stuffy feeling in the nose, the buzzing noises in the ears, the continual "hawking and spitting," difficult breathing, etc. But when the blood becomes thoroughly polluted from the catarrhal matter, the inflammation extends to the bronchial tubes, causing hoarseness, and often an aggravating cough; the stomach is affected, resulting in dyspepsia, loss of appetite and strength, and gradually all the mucous membranes of the body become diseased and the system upset and deranged. Frequently the kidneys and bladder are attacked, and the constant passage of impure blood through the lungs, diseases these important members, and Catarrh terminates in Consumption. Catarrh is a deep-seated blood disease, and must be treated constitutionally, for it is beyond the reach of local treatment. S. S. S. cures Catarrh by cleansing the blood of all the impure catarrhal matter and at the same time building up the entire system. It goes down and attacks the disease at its head, in the circulation, and removes every trace of the impurity that is causing the trouble. Then as rich, pure blood circulates through the body, the inflamed membranes commence to heal, the mucous discharges grow less and finally cease, and all the disagreeable and disgusting symptoms of Catarrh disappear. S. S. S. has no equal as a cure for this disease. It refines and purifies the entire circulation and repairs the damage done by Catarrh. Special book on Catarrh and any medical advice free.

ROOSEVELT'S FIVE GREATEST MEN

Cleveland, Carnegie, Mitchell, Bryan and James J. Hill.

Chief Executive Asks Them to Meet in Conference to Conserve Country's Resources.

ALL OF THEM ARE DEMOCRATS

Washington, April 18.—Who are the five greatest men in the United States outside of public life?

According to Theodore Roosevelt, they are:

Grover Cleveland, Andrew Carnegie, John Mitchell, William Jennings Bryan and James J. Hill.

The questions of the ten best sellers, and the twenty-one greatest men that ever lived, have been sidetracked by this discussion.

The president precipitated it by inviting the five named to attend the big conference in the white house the week of May 14, to discuss conservation of the natural resources of the country. There will be others in the conference—every governor of a state, cabinet officers, members of the supreme court of the United States and members of the inland waterways commission—but these five men are singled out from the whole United States as five individuals to be invited.

All Are Democrats.

It will be recalled at once that they are all Democrats. Not the same kind, yet under the broad banner of Democracy. Cleveland has never been denounced from the white house for any misdeed as a malefactor, undesirable citizen or other culprit. In fact, there has never been a great interchange of views between the present executive and his predecessor.

Andrew Carnegie is on the "most favored nation" footing in the white house. While here recently he urged the president to accept the presidency of the Carnegie National Institute when he left the white house, and told him he could have all the money he wanted to extend its scope of influence, but the president declined at the time.

James J. Hill is a recent convert admitted to the inner sanctuary. When the president, through the department of justice, broke up the Northern Securities merger, it is doubtful if the comments of Mr. Hill about the president could have been secured to posterity by publication.

upon asbestos paper, but lately there has been a change.

Paul Morton Peacemaker.

Paul Morton is largely responsible for this. Morton asked Hill to meet the president, and Hill said he would come if the president would invite him. Then Morton went to the president, and the executive, in characteristic style, said:

"I would be delighted to see Hill. I always liked the hairy-chested old gorilla—he is an empire builder—but in his bigness he forgot that other persons had some rights."

They met, and now all is forgiven and forgotten and Hill is named as one of the five greatest men of the nation.

John Mitchell is one of the "white house intimates. The president recently offered him a position to investigate labor conditions in the canal zone, but Mitchell had to decline on account of ill health.

The Gridiron Dinner.

William Jennings Bryan? Well, at the recent Gridiron club dinner Bryan and Roosevelt sat together, and in the course of the dinner it was "William" and "Theodore" in the exchange of views. Outside verbal honours are passed frequently and Bryan gets in the sacred five.

WON'T TRUST

HARTFORD STOCKHOLDERS OF ILLINOIS CENTRAL MEET.

Will Send Three Representatives to Chicago to Favor Issue of New Stock.

Hartford, Conn., April 18.—Stockholders of the Illinois Central railroad in this city and vicinity today decided to send personal representatives to the special meeting of the road to be held at Chicago May 18. The proposed new issue of stock, determined upon by the road, was discussed, and the expression was given that it was satisfactory to local interests. Whoever is sent to the Chicago meeting will have proxies representing approximately 10,000 shares to vote in support of the policy outlined.

While it was stated that the Hartford stockholders had no quarrel with the road, some of those present said they had lost confidence in Mr. Harriman by reason of his past actions, and they did not propose to turn over to him or his representatives their proxies for the special meeting.

Charles E. Gross, an attorney, alluded to the recent criticism of Mr. Harriman by the Hartford interests representing the Illinois Central, adding that it was justified. Mr. Gross said that he did not propose to admit that he had forgiven Harriman, for he had not, and therefore would not send his proxy to anyone representing either Mr. Harriman or Mr. Harahan. This policy Mr. Gross believed in would be to prick the conscience of these men by refusing them proxies, and he thought the more this is done the more certain will the ends in view be accomplished.

P. Henry Woodward, an insurance man and banker, said that if Mr. Harriman would use the same energy and skill in the interest of the stockholders that he uses in his own behalf, there would be little to complain of. He said that if Harriman can control the Illinois Central he may turn around and buy stock in other roads with money and credit of the Illinois corporation, as was done with Union Pacific funds.

He said that the Georgia Central road has been purchased and wrecked, and he did not favor the Illinois Central taking over that property at an exorbitant price. A resolution was passed appointing a committee of three to solicit the proxies of the stockholders of the Illinois Central in this vicinity.

Body Found.

Cadiz, Ky., April 17.—The body of Robert Roberts, the young man of Canton who was drowned in the Cumberland river a mile above Canton over two weeks ago, was found floating down the river a few miles above Eddyville last Thursday. The body was found by the boat that was pushing the barge from which he fell when he lost his life. The body was taken back to Canton, and buried in the cemetery at that place Friday. While the body had begun to decay, it was easily recognized.

John Adams

Signer of the Declaration of Independence and Second President of the United States

HERE we have a Puritan of the Puritans—a man of stern and unbending rectitude—of generous and truly heroic temperament.

Descended from a pious God-fearing New England family of Pilgrims and Pioneers (who were for generations brewers, maltsters, barley and hop growers) he became the mouthpiece of the Revolution—the terror of tyrants—a giant in debate—and diplomatically more than a match for Pitt and Talleyrand.

I would rather die than be dictated to—this sentence accurately describes the stubborn spirit of this valiant old patriot whom all England could not govern.

John Adams, even as his fathers before him, nourished mind and body on health-giving barley beer, and died at 91 (twenty-one years beyond the scriptural span) enjoying all his mental powers to the very last.

*Familiar Letters—Riverside Press, N.Y., 1776, pages 22, 43, 46, 47, 79, 122, 230, 277.

Life and works by his son, John Quincy Adams, Vol. I, pages 6, 8, 9, 10-11, etc.

A letter to his wife, Abigail, May 22, 1777, says: "I would give $5.00 for a gallon of your beer."

Budweiser

THE most popular beer in the world. There is less profit to the dealer who sells it, because it costs more money at the brewery than any other beer made. A royal brew of malt and hops whose absolute sovereignty has never been challenged. Unquestionably—

"I tried all kinds of blood remedies which failed to do me any good but I have found the right thing to use. No more pimples and blotches. After taking Cascarets they all left. I am continuing the use of them and recommending them to my friends. I feel free to write in the morning. Hope to have a chance to recommend Cascarets."

The Week In Society.

AN EASTER LILY.

Once, in a mossy garden old,
The angel of the flowers
Walked in the silver mist of dawn
And watered it with showers.
He saw an Easter lily there,
Too beautiful to fade,
And changed its fragrant loveliness
Into a little maid.

Behold her robed in filmy white
Where in the church she stands,
The long stemmed lilies in her arms,
The psalter in her hands.
Her face is lifted to the morn;
Its glory round her lies,
And all the brightness of the day
Is mirrored in her eyes.

On every altar in the land
The lilies bud and blow;
The air is heavy with perfume
From chambers of snow,
A dewy garland round the world
The blossoms stretch away,
But she is still the sweetest flower
That blooms on Easter day.

—Mildred Irving, in Leslie's Weekly.

QUEEN VICTORIA'S HAIR.

Its Great Profusion Was Always a Cause of Wonder.

Even at the age of 80 years Queen Victoria's hair was a marvel of luxuriance. The court physician, following Prof. Anna's discovery, undoubtedly, treated her majesty's scalp with a germ destroying preparation that was not made public. It is now known, however, that the remedy for dandruff, the germ destroying element, is embodied in Newbro's Herpicide, the only hair preparation on the market that does destroy the dandruff germ. Without dandruff, hair will grow profusely, and falling hair will be stopped. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Two sizes, 50c and $1.00. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.—W. B. McPherson, Special Agent.

BETTER THAN SPANKING.

Spanking does not cure children of bedwetting. There is a constitutional cause for the trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W. South Bend, Ind., will send free to any mother her successful treatment, with full instructions. Send no money, but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child, the chances are it can't help it. This treatment of course a safe and aged people trouble with urine difficulties by day or night.

GIRLS WHO WORK

Girls who work for their living are especially exposed to the dangers of organic feminine disorders. Standing all day, or sitting in cramped positions; walking to and from their places of employment in bad weather all tend to break down their delicate feminine organism.

No class of women are in need of greater assistance, and thousands of letters like the following demonstrate the fact that LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND restores the feminine system to a strong, healthy, normal condition. Miss Abby F. Barrows, of Nelsonville, Ohio, writes to Mrs. Pinkham: "I was very sick, had dull headaches, pain in my back, and a feminine weakness. I had been to several doctors and they did me no good. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me well and strong, and I can do most any kind of work. I am in better health than I ever was, and it is all due to your medicine."

Miss Lillian Ross, of 530 E. 84th St., New York, writes to Mrs. Pinkham: "I had a female trouble, nervous headaches, and was tired all the time, and could not sleep. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me feel so much better that I hope every woman who suffers as I did will try it."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN. For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for feminine ills, and has positively cured thousands of women. Why don't you try it? Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice.

Daily Thought.

There is only one real failure possible in life, and that is not to be true to the best one knows.—Farrar.

THE P. & N. FRANCHISE.

Without going into the merits of the controversy as to whether or not the Paducah & Northern railroad should enter the city over the route proposed in the franchise offered for adoption, The Sun wishes to make clear one point at least. There has been anything but an effort to slip or rush that franchise through the general council. A blue print of the route was hung in Mayor Smith's outer office some six weeks ago. At that time the local papers outlined the route and the purpose of the company, and invited citizens to visit the mayor's office and inspect the route.

It is difficult for a railroad to enter Paducah, for two reasons. The city has grown in all directions, so that residence sections have to be traversed whatever route is chosen, and the Illinois Central having entered Paducah, while it was yet a village, has threatened the city with its main tracks and spurs. It has a complete loop, and it is not to the advantage of any other railroad to touch the edge of Paducah, if it cannot get in and out of the Illinois Central loop to reach the shippers.

Naturally the property owners along the proposed route do not desire the railroad to enter over the streets designated. The promoters recognize this difficulty in the way and employed an expert engineer, who mapped out a route he considered most practicable and satisfactory from a railroad man's point of view, having consideration he claimed to the least possible damage to private property. They are abiding strictly by his decision, thus endeavoring to avoid friction. The rights of the property owners, of course, merit consideration, and that is a matter well within the discretion of the members of the general council, having due regard for the fact that railroads cannot enter Paducah by any other route without encountering objections from some source. Two things must be considered, if we desire the railroad, the route causing the least damage and inconvenience to property owners, and the one that will be acceptable to the railroad. Paducah will benefit from the railroad more than the railroad will from Paducah.

As long as a member of the general council is defeated in his course by only these reasonable considerations, he is performing a duty he owes to the people he represents, but if he becomes captious in his obstruction of plans for attracting railroads from the north to Paducah, he may throw himself under suspicion of serving interests other than the rights of the property owners of the city.

ANOTHER APOLOGIST.

John L. Smith, editor and representative from Lyon county, presents a long article over his own signature in the Louisville Evening Post, defending Lyon county against the reputation, which the night riders have given her; and while it only convinces the reader that Lyon county is coming in for a share of notoriety that greatly discredits her condition light on the situation in that section, as reflected by the attitude of Mr. Smith. He and his newspaper, no doubt, attempt to keep on the popular side. Certainly the editor, politician does not attempt to mould and guide public opinion; else Mr. Smith would be in the unpleasant position, either of having misguided the sentiment of his people, or utterly failed to influence them.

Like all men, who try to follow public sentiment, Mr. Smith has been all ears and eyes for the present, with no prophetic insight and no regard for historical precedent. He has heard the noise of hoof beats in the night and seen the glare of the burning tobacco barns. He imagines that the silent, intimidated people of Lyon county and trembling officials are giving sympathetic acquiescence to the deeds of lawlessness.

Listen to his apology for the night riders:

"More strenuous efforts to apprehend Regulators might have been put forth but for the fact that their work has been applauded by many who knew of the bad conduct of some of those visited, and the salutary results effected by the visits. Even the Regulators are not all bad men, for they visit their punishment on some lawless characters who seem to be immune from prosecution and thus merit the approval of some who would not themselves engage in the work."

Let us not forget it was hoodlums from Lyon county, who invaded Marshall county and murdered two defenseless negroes—one an old man, the other an infant girl. Lyon and Trig county citizens whipped a police magistrate and ten other people at Eddyville, and the county judge and sheriff were forced to stay at their homes, while the mob worked its wicked will.

It was a Lyon county mob that tore old Henry Bennett from the presence of his sick boy and whipped him with thorn sticks until the blood flowed, and burned two warehouses in Dycusburg. And Mr. Smith commends the "salutary results effected by the visits."

It is strange that men, considered intelligent enough to edit newspapers, are not aware that every unholy, unlawful thing, everything not in tune with the harmony of the universe, has contained the cause of its own dissolution. Doesn't that sort of man know that if lawlessness and absolute disregard of the personal rights and liberties of others can prevail here, this government can not last? This government and state are founded on law, and if the law cannot be enforced for the protection of people, then those people must defend themselves and anarchy is the result. If Mr. Smith thinks this government and this state, in the making of laws of which he has the honor of participating, will continue to exist, he must realize that lawlessness must cease.

The officers of the law have been seriously embarrassed in their efforts to run down the outlaws by such triflers with public opinion.

We should be ashamed of our country, of our people and of ourselves, if we did not believe that they are for law and order and justice.

Representative Smith would show more home pride and loyalty to his people by aiding in purging the county of its lawlessness than by attempting to conceal the condition.

WHO SHALL CONTROL.

One week from today the Republicans of McCracken county will meet in convention at the McCracken county court house to choose delegates to the state convention and to reorganize the county committee. It is an important matter always; but unusually important this year, because a registered Democrat, Adolph Well, the wholesale whisky dealer, is at the head of an organization, working under the banner of Vice President Fairbanks to gain control of the party. We do not know whether Mr. Well is seeking to capture the Republican party in McCracken county in the name of whisky or in the name of Democracy, or whether he has become so enamored of the name of Fairbanks, that he is turning his back on his own party temporarily. Whatever his motive in becoming a Republican, it will become Mr. Well to attempt to assume the role of dictator so soon after his conversion. He should work as private for a little time until he has become accustomed to Republican liberty.

Another thing the party must look out for is the importation of the hands from Joppa and even as high up the river as Vice-President Fairbanks' own state, to dictate to the Republicans of McCracken county. The high-handed proceedings, which almost precipitated a riot at the convention March 9, when an attempt was made to drag the county chairman off the court house steps into the hands of brawny the carriers, should be forestalled by precautions against the admission of such characters into the convention.

Neither Democrats nor Illinois tie hands should be allowed any voice in the organization of this county for the next four years, nor should these elements be permitted to carry out any sort of plot by violence to stifle the expression of McCracken county Republicans in their choice for president of the United States.

Don't play politics, Gentlemen of the general council, with the Paducah & Northern franchise.

The trouble with those alibi witnesses mentioned by the Calloway county prisoners, is that the witnesses themselves are so liable to prosecution

The MYSTERY

By Stewart Edward White

We advanced four abreast, for the cave was wide enough for that. As we penetrated the bellowing and barking became more deafening. It was impossible to see anything, although we felt an indistinguishable tumbling mass receding before our footsteps. Thrackles swore violently as he stumbled over a lagard. With uncanny abruptness the black wall of darkness in front of us was alive with fiery eyeballs. The seals had reached the end of the cave and had turned toward us. We, too, stopped, a little uncertain as to how to proceed.

The first plan had been to get behind the band and drive it slowly toward the entrance to the cave. This was now seen to be impossible. The cavern was too narrow, its sides at this point too steep and the animals too thickly congested. Our eyes, becoming accustomed to the twilight, now began to make out dimly the individual bodies of the seals and the general configuration of the rocks. One big boulder lay directly in our path, like an island in the shale of the cave's floor. Perdosa stepped to the top of it for a better look. The men attempted to communicate their ideas of what was to be done, but could not make themselves heard above the uproar. I could see their faces contorting with the fury of being baffled. A big bull made a dash to get by. All the herd slipped after him. If he had won past, they would have followed as obstinately as sheep and nothing could have stopped them, but the big bull went down beneath the chubs. Thrackles hit the animal two vindictive blows after it had succumbed.

This settled the revolt, and we stood as before. Puiz and Handy Solomon tried to converse by signs, but evidently failed, for their faces showed angry in the twilight. Perdosa, on his rock, rolled and lit a cigarette. Thrackles paced to and fro, and the nigger leaned on his club farther down the cave. They had been left at the entrance, but now in lack of results had joined their companions.

Now Thrackles approached and scowled himself black trying to impart some plan. He failed, but stooped and picked up a stone and threw it into the mass of seals. The others understood. A shower of stones followed. The animals milled like cattle, bellowed the louder, but would not face their tormentors. Finally an old cow flopped by in a panic. I thought they would have let her go, but she died a little beyond the bull. No more followed, although the men threw stones as fast and as hard as they were able. Their faces were livid with anger, like that of an evil tempered man with an obstinate horse.

Suddenly Handy Solomon put his head down and with a roar distinctly audible even above the din that filled the cave charged directly into the herd. I saw the beasts cringing and falling indistinctly, and then the whole back of the cave seemed to rise and come at us.

This was no chance of sport now, but a struggle for very life. We realized that once down there would be no hope, for while the seals were more anxious to escape than to fight we knew that their jaws were powerful. There was no time to pick and choose. We hit out with all the strength and quickness we possessed. It was like a bad dream, like struggling with an elusive hydra headed monster, knee high, invulnerable. We hit, but without apparent effect. New heads rose, the press behind increased. We gave ground. We staggered, struggling desperately to keep our feet.

How long this lasted I cannot tell. It seemed hours. I know my arms became leaden from swinging my club. My eyes were full of sweat. My breath gasped. A sharp pain in my knee nearly doubled me to the ground, and yet I remember clamping to the thought that I must keep my feet, keep my feet at any cost. Then all at once I recalled the fact that I was armed. I jerked out the short barreled revolver and turned it loose in their faces.

Whether the flash and detonation frightened them, whether Perdosa, still clinging to his rock, managed to turn their attention by his flanking efforts or whether, quite simply, the wall of dead finally turned them back I do not know, but with one accord they gave over the attempt.

I looked at once for Handy Solomon and was surprised to see him still alive, standing upright on a ledge the other side of the herd. His clothing was literally torn to shreds, and he was covered with blood. But in this plight he was not alone, for when I turned toward my companions they, too, were tattered, torn and gory. We were a dreadful crew, standing there in the half light, our chests heaving, our rags dripping red.

For perhaps ten seconds no one moved. Then with a yell of demoralized rage my companions clambered over the rampart of dead seals and attacked the herd.

The seals were now cowed and defenseless. It was a slaughter, and the most debauching and brutal I have ever known. I had hit out with the rest when it had been a question of defense, but from this I turned aside in a sick loathing. The men seemed possessed of devils and of their unnatural energy. Perdosa cast aside the club and took to his natural weapon, the knife. I can see him yet rolling over and over embracing a big cow, his head jammed in an ecstasy of flippers, his legs clasped to hold her body, only his right hand rising and falling as he plunged his knife again and again. She struggled, turning him over and under, wept great tears and fairly whined with terror and pain. Finally she was still, and Perdosa staggered to his feet, only to stare about him drunkenly for a moment before throwing himself with a screech on another victim.

The nigger alone did not jump into the turmoil. He stood just down the cave, his club ready. Occasionally a disorganized rush to escape would be made. The nigger's lips curled and with a truly mad enjoyment he beat the poor animals back.

THE RESURRECTION.

A day ago, and the hard, frosted earth Held all the potency of the golden glow

Of daffodils and crocus cups that show

Their purple and their amber in the north

Of dancing lightes—who sees the mystic birth

Of life after death? And who can know

Where dwells the curled hyacinth when the snow

Hides the green whet and makes the "holies" dearth?

No thing can die, the shaded violet In the young eyes of maidens passed away

Returns all sweet a violet through the sod

The roses of the child when night stars set

Change to the pink of morn—the dying day

But waits across the world and dawns with God?

NEWS OF COURTS

In Circuit Court.

The Globe Bank and Trust company has filed suit in the circuit court against the Register Newspaper company and J. E. Wilhelm to enforce the collection of two notes, amounting to $7,700. The notes bear dates of March 1907, and are signed by The Register Newspaper company, J. E. Wilhelm, M. E. Beadles and Ella B. Wilhelm.

Suit was filed against the Illinois Central Railroad company by Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Kelly for $1,000 damages alleged to have been sustained by the failure of the company to deliver to Mrs. Kelly a ticket from Tillatobia, Miss., that had been ordered forwarded from Paducah.

Three suits were filed against Henry J. Arent yesterday by Serena St. John, Violet LeRoy and Clarence LeRoy to enforce the collection of judgments secured in circuit court for damages received when a buggy in which the plaintiffs were riding collided with Arent's automobile. The three judgments amount to about $400.

The Western District Warehouse company brought suit against the Paducah Transfer company for $225, claimed to be due for storing cement for the defendant company.

Not Responsible.

The Palmer Transfer company will defend against the action of the Rev. M. Lovitch, by contending his grip was never in possession of the company. It is contended that Dr. Lovitch set his grip down on the station platform and got into the cab, supposing the transfer men got it. The latter said he did not see it. The grip was stolen from the station platform and rifled, being found afterward.

In Police Court.

The docket in police court this morning was: Using insulting language—W. L. Reed, continued until Monday; Porter Brown, continued until Monday. Selling unwholesome meat—Bob Torian, continued until Monday.

Criminal Court.

Herman Clements was sentenced to 18 months in the penitentiary at yesterday's session of criminal court for stealing a bicycle and selling it as his own property.

Charles Morris, colored, was acquitted on the charge of robbing Nola Anderson of $150. The Anderson woman was fined $25.00 for failing to answer when called.

James Dunlap was given a second sentence of five years on a charge of breaking into the house of Walter White. Dunlap was sentenced to three years for obtaining money from a farmer on the claim that he was a license collector for the city.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to express our most sincere and heartfelt thanks to the many friends who so kindly assisted us during the sickness and death of our dear husband and father. May the Lord's blessing ever rest upon them is the wish of his family.

MRS. B. B. GRESHAM AND CHILDREN.

CANNON FAILS TO GET STATE SOLID

Six Illinois Delegates Are Opposed to Uncle Joe.

Taft Gets Two Instructions and Four Are Uninstructed for President.

ALL CONVENTIONS ARE OVER

Cannon	48
Taft	2
Uninstructed	4
Total	54

Chicago, April 18.—Illinois' delegation to the Republican convention was rounded out yesterday, when the Thirtieth congressional district elected its brace of delegates at Freeport and instructed them to vote for "Uncle Joe" Cannon.

The final results gave the sage of Danville a "favorite son" support from forty-eight of the fifty-four delegates. The Cannon hopes of a solid delegation from the speaker's home state having been punctured in three districts—the First, where the delegates were instructed to vote for Taft from first to last, and the Second and Tenth, where no instructions were given.

The Second district delegates are expected to cast the first ballot or two for "Uncle Joe," and it is considered not improbable that the Tenth district delegates may decide to give a similar complimentary first ballot for Cannon.

The final convention at Freeport was short and unexciting. Dr. J. P. Fair, of Freeport, acted as chairman, and the national delegates elected were A. P. Woodruff, of Savannah, and Oscar Woods, of Morrison, the alternates being J. Stewart Lamont, of Galena, and Delos W. Baxter, of Oregon. Dr. George W. L. Brown, of Dixon, was endorsed for presidential elector.

The resolutions endorsing Speaker Cannon were adopted by a vote of 52-10-2, the dissenters being Taft men from Whiteside county.

Five Congressmen Listed.

The original intention of the Cannon men several months ago, when the campaign for delegates first became warm, was to procure places for all the Republican congressmen from Illinois in the convention. The complete list, however, shows that only five congressmen have landed—William Lorrimer, Henry Sherman Bontell, Howard M. Snapp, William B. McKinley and W. A. Rodenberg.

Now that the congressional conventions are over, the Taft men will proceed to open headquarters in Chicago, territory from which they have held aloof, in accordance with the policy of the secretary of war not to make a fight for delegates in "favorite son" states. A publicity bureau will be opened in the Great Northern hotel early next week and, later on, headquarters for the convention will be established at the Auditorium Annex.

Pleasant Open Meeting.

Manchester Grove, Woodmen of the World, had an open meeting on Monday evening at the Knights of Columbus hall on Broadway. It was a pleasant social occasion and an attractive literary and musical program was presented.

D. A. R. Congress.

Much interest is manifested in the Continental Congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution to be held in Washington April 20-25, inclusive. Paducah chapter will be represented by the regent, Mrs. Eli G. Boone, and Mrs. Edmund M. Post, who left Friday to join the Kentucky delegation. Their headquarters will be at the Ebbitt House. The announcement of convention plans will thus be of interest. The social side of the convention will be brilliant. The first social event of the congress will be a reception Monday evening, April 20, at the New Willard, when the delegates will be received by Mrs. McLean. A stereopticon lecture, "The Flag," will be given at the hall the Wednesday following for the benefit of the Continental Hall building fund. President Roosevelt will receive the congress at the white house, April 24, at 2:30 p. m. The Sons of the American Revolution of the District of Columbia have invited the Daughters of the congress to a patriotic reception to be held the evening of April 24, at the new York-avenue Presbyterian church.

The congress will be called to order at 10:30 o'clock a. m. Monday, April 20, by the president-general, who will also make an opening address of welcome. The tentative program shows that each session will be crowded with reports by national officers and various committees and it is expected that many important addresses will be made. A special work of the congress will be the election of ten vice-president generals, a proceeding of intense interest for every member. The Kentucky delegations are booming Mrs. Sallie Marshall Hardy, of Louisville, for the office.

At the afternoon session Wednesday, April 22, the Memorial Continental Hall committee, of which Mrs. Donald McLean is chairman, will present its report, and the delegates from Pennsylvania will present a clock to the hall. There will be songs of the different states, each sung by a daughter of the state, and the marine band will play. The congress will adjourn after the morning session, Saturday morning, April 25.

The national board of managers of the seventeenth congress are as follows: President general, Mrs. Donnell McLean, New York City; N. Y. vice-president general in charge of organization of chapters, Mrs. Charlotte Emory, Maine, Washington, D. C. Vice presidents general, Mrs. J. Morgan Smith, Alabama; Mrs. Charles H. Deere, Illinois; Mrs. Wallace Delafield, Missouri; Mrs. Alexander Ennis, Patton, Pennsylvania; Mrs. Charles H. Terry, New York; Mrs. A. A. Kendall, Maine; Mrs. Ellen Spencer Mussey, District of Columbia; Mrs. H. S. Chamberlain, Tennessee; Mrs. Lindsay Patterson, North Carolina; Mrs. Baldwin Day Spillman, West Virginia; Mrs. Esther Frothingham Noble, chaplain general, Washington, D. C.; Miss Elizabeth P. Pierce, recording secretary general, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Amos G. Draper, registrar general, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. J. Eakin Gadsby, historian general, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. John Paul Earnest, corresponding secretary general, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Mabel G. Stormstedt, treasurer general, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Henry B. Bowron, assistant historian general, New York City; Mrs. H. V. Boynton, librarian general, Washington, D. C.

IMPORTANT DECISION

Case of much interest was tried last Tuesday before Judge Emery, where George Picklin, of this city, was charged with "setting" intoxicating liquors, and the evidence showed, he sold Dr. Fizz, Cremo and Vivo, prepared by A. M. Laevison & Co., and the proof all went to show these beverages were non-intoxicating, and the case was dismissed, as no violation of the law could be proven.

The decision of the court will act favorably with the sale of Dr. Fizz, Vivo and Cremo, which are prepared and sold by A. M. Laevison & Co., of this city.

THOUSANDS OF MEN

WILL BE GIVEN WORK BY THE RAILROADS.

Dispatches say:

Within the next two weeks the railroads of Kentucky will put between 4,000 and 5,000 section men to work repairing the ravages wrought in the roadbeds by the winter rains, ice and snows. Already about two thousand men have been given this employment in the southern part of the state, where the midland of the climate permits this work of repair to begin earlier than in the central and northern part of the state. The L. & N. railroad alone, which operates two-thirds of all the mileage in the state, is preparing to double its section force for the work of spring repairing. This road has added 500 men in the last week, and will continue giving others employment until probably 3,000 are put to work.

The Illinois Central will use the second largest number of additional men, giving employment to about 1,500 for the work of track and roadbed repairing. The Queen and Crescent will use 1,000 approximately; the Southern and C. & O. 500 each, and all the other roads about 500. Most of these men were laid off after the fall cleaning up last November, when the roadbeds were put in shape for the winter.

Baptist World May Supersede All the Publication Now in the State.

Louisville, April 18.—The Baptist World Publishing company was incorporated yesterday and by May 1 expects to begin publishing the Baptist World, a new Baptist religious weekly which anticipates consolidating with or absorbing the Baptist Argus within a short time, and in the near future the Western Recorder and perhaps, the Baptist Flag of Fulton, Ky. It is believed that within a few years the company will be one of the largest publishing companies in Louisville, if not in this part of the country. The new publishing company was organized in the office of O'Neal & O'Neal Wednesday afternoon, but the plans were not made public until the incorporation yesterday.

A large number of prominent Baptists in Louisville and the state have organized the new company. The names of the leading men who are interested in the new enterprise are as follows: Theodore Harris, James Shuttlesworth, George W. Norton, Julius Caldwell, J. N. Prestridge, A. Y. Ford, Caldwell Norton, James H. Chandler, Boyce Watkins, Judge J. T. O'Neal, W. P. Harvey, Thomas A. Johnson, D. E. Proctor, of Bowling Green; M. J. Farris, president of the Citizens Bank, Danville; Col. A. H. Fleet and many others. For a long time many Baptists have felt that Louisville was a most suitable location for a Baptist religious weekly with a world-wide circulation. The geographical situation of Louisville on the border line between the north and the south, makes it peculiarly favorable for such a publication. Then, too, Louisville is regarded by the Baptists of the country as an important center, the Baptist center of the United States.

There are at present several Baptist papers published in Kentucky. The Western Recorder is the oldest of these; and has for a number of years had a strong circulation in the state of Kentucky. The Baptist Argus, which was established some years ago, has also become a strong paper, and has a wide circulation throughout the north and south and even among the Baptists on the other side of the world. The Baptist Flag is a paper published in Fulton, Ky., which has also a wide circulation. It is not, of course, proposed to consolidate all of these papers into one. It is now practically settled, however, that the Baptist Argus will be purchased by the new company.

If this is done the number of Baptist papers in the state will be left the same as at present. The white Baptists of Kentucky number more than 200,000 and throughout the north and south they number from five to seven millions. This affords a great constituency for denominational papers, and the promoters of the new enterprise feel assured of success beforehand. The attitude of the new paper will be one of peace and good will toward other existing denominational papers and all the interests of the denomination. It will cultivate friendly relations with the papers which exist in Kentucky and the many which exist throughout the south and north. It will stand for the constructive and aggressive missionary and educational work of the denomination and loyalty to Baptist principles. The men who are putting their money into it are firmly persuaded of the great opportunity for such a paper as that outlined above, and believe that its circulation and influence will extend far beyond the borders of Kentucky, and that it will not necessarily interfere with the welfare or prosperity of local and state papers.

Dr. W. P. Harvey, who has been connected with Baptist newspaper work for twenty years, and whose business standing is strong, was visiting his son in Denver, Col., when he was called to Louisville by a telegram sent by Judge J. T. O'Neal and James G. Caldwell urging him to attend a meeting of Baptist business men at the home of Theodore Harris with a view to leading an important movement in the interest of harmony and state and world-wide progress. The organization of the company was the outcome of this conference.

After effecting an organization of the company the following board of directors was chosen: Theodore Harris, George Norton, Julius Caldwell, W. P. Harvey, J. N. Prestridge, J. H. Chandler, Boyce Watkins, Thomas A. Johnson and M. J. Farris, of Danville. Dr. W. P. Harvey was elected president and manager, and Dr. J. N. Prestridge was made vice president and secretary. The new company will begin business about May 1 in the Rossmore building, in which apartments have been leased for a term of years and which will be handsomely fitted up.

The Baptist World Publishing company is incorporated with a capitalization of $50,000, divided into shares of $100 each, and a maximum debt not to exceed two-thirds of the capital stock. The incorporators and their respective holdings are: Theodore Harris, 15 shares; James A. Shuttlesworth, 10 shares; M. J. Farris, Danville, 10 shares; W. P. Harvey, 102 shares; Boyce Watkins, 10 shares; George W. Norton, 40 shares; Mrs. Katherine Johnson, 7 shares; T. A. Johnson, 5 shares; J. N. Prestridge, 20 shares; R. F. Proctor, 5 shares; Gorman Jones, Williamsburg, 3 shares; A. Y. Ford, 2 shares; Julius Caldwell, 3 shares; Mrs. K. P. Van Der Veer, Versailles, 2 shares; Mrs. J. B. Marvin, 5 shares; W. H. Williams, Springfield, 1 share; A. T. Fleet, Culver, 3 shares; Caldwell Norton, 3 shares; Annie B. Wood, 5 shares; John H. Chandler, 5 shares; J. S. Dill, Bowling Green, 5 shares; W. E. Habner, Fork Union, Va., 3 shares; E. J. Martin, Adairsville, 2 shares.

ALL FOR TAFT

Burlington, Vt., April 18. (Special.)—When Vermont is reached in the roll call of states at the Republican national convention, her eight votes will be cast for William H. Taft.

HARDY BUGGY CO.

(Incorporated.) Paducah, Ky.

The state will vote in the convention as a unit, and whether instructed or not, the delegates will surely be for Taft.

This is a conservative conclusion based upon a careful inquiry among Republican leaders. Mr. Taft's victory in Ohio, his strength in other parts of New England, his deeds of accomplishment, his public utterances, his pronounced policies, and the daily accessions to the ranks of Taft delegates, have had their effect in Vermont. There has been no sudden break for Taft. The situation today is the result of political development. No organization work, or canvassing has been done on the one side or the other.

"The Vermont delegation to the Republican national convention will go as instructed," said Governor Proctor. "It has been the custom for years to send an undivided delegation to the convention, and we are going to observe it this time, too."

"From what I can gather, however, the sentiment seems equally divided between Taft and Hughes."

Three former governors of Vermont, each a tower of strength in the party, are for Taft. They are U. L. Woodbury, of Burlington; E. C. Smith, of St. Albans; and John L. Banister, of Shelburne. An other former governor, Carroll S. Page, of Hyde Park, has been leaning toward Hughes, but today he said:

"There has been a decided drift toward Mr. Taft of late, and I think it may conservatively be said that he is now the favorite candidate of Vermont Republicans. We, who have been favoring Mr. Hughes, did so with out the slightest animosity toward Mr. Taft, or indifference to his merits. The feeling was that our delegation should go to Chicago and support the best candidate, the one that would most strongly appeal to Vermont and who stood the best chance of winning. Mr. Taft is undoubtedly in the lead, and our delegates, reasoning along the lines I have mentioned, will undoubtedly vote for him."

Mr. Woodbury said there is no question but that Mr. Taft is in the lead, and will be nominated. No one else in the field now seems to have any show for the place. Vermont will support him loyally. He is qualified for the presidency at all points, and his administration is sure to be a credit to his party and of great value to the country. He will continue the work begun by Mr. Roosevelt, and carry out the policies of his party. We can surely win with Taft, no matter whom the Democrats may run."

Mr. Smith said: "Mr. Taft has the call among the Republicans of this state. It has grown steadily stronger, although so far as I know, not an ounce of organized effort has been exerted in his behalf. He has gained supporters because he deserves support."
